

Which participants should be counted under the result indicators dealing with disadvantaged?

Both the immediate and longer-term result indicators on disadvantaged (“disadvantaged participants engaged in job searching, education/training, gaining a qualification, in employment, including self-employment, upon leaving”, and “disadvantaged participants in employment, including self-employment, six months after leaving”) should only include participants who have been recorded in at least one of the following common output indicators (note that people may cumulate several disadvantages:

- participants who live in jobless households;
- participants who live in a single adult household with dependent children;
- migrants, people with a foreign background, minorities (including marginalised communities such as the Roma);
- participants with disabilities; or
- other disadvantaged.
