

Event Registration - Notifications - Why do I receive notifications related to the standalone document types from funds that I am not registered?

That's because the standalone document types (e.g. debit note and the credit note) have no attributes which determine the Fund(s) or the CCI(s). So, we cannot filter on those. Therefore, if you have subscribed for the standalone document type events, you will receive them all. What you could do if you do not want to receive any standalone document type events, is to go to the event registration and in the "event types" page, de-select these event types.
