SFC2021
REDESIGN AND NEW FEATURES

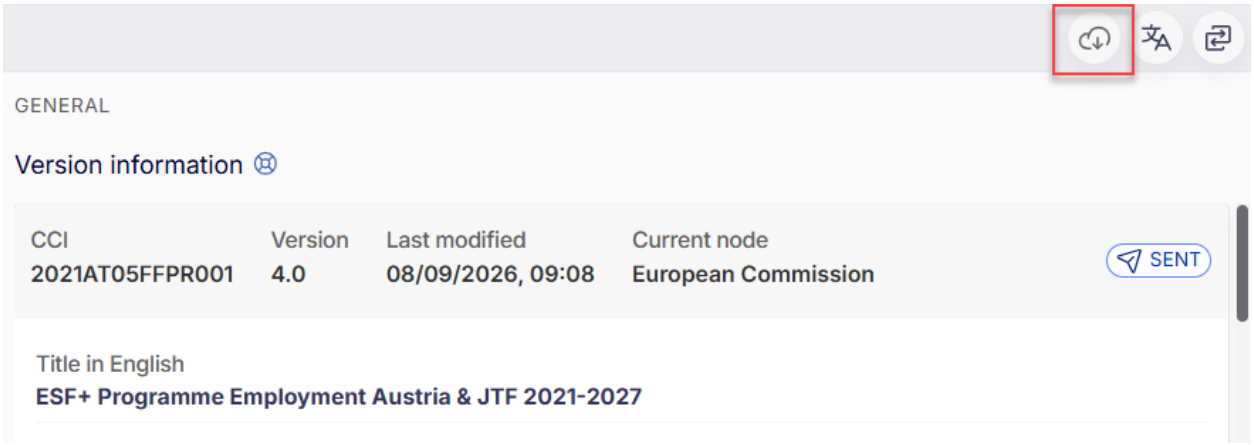

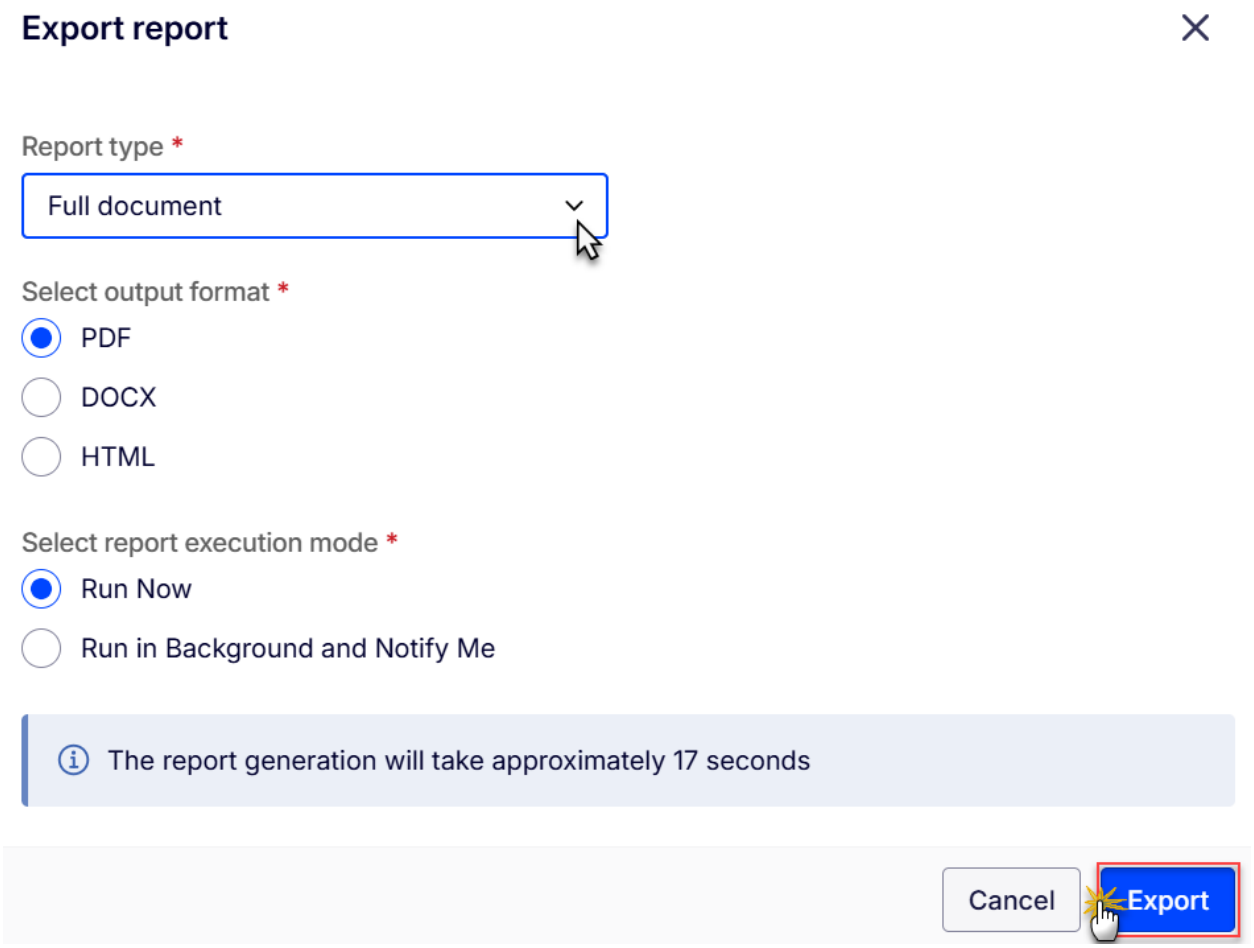

01

EXPORT ACTION

The way users generate and download reports was redesigned. Previously, the three dots menu on the left-hand side of the toolbar contained a separate link for each combination of report type and output format. The new design replaces these links with an Export button that opens a dialog where users can select:

- the report type,
- the output format, and
- the execution mode (synchronous or asynchronous).

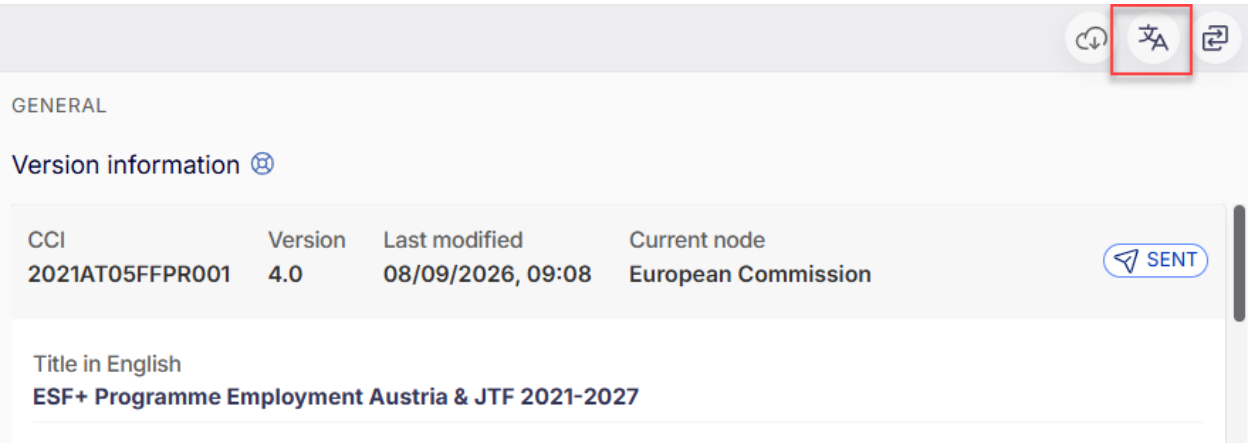

Reports generated asynchronously are available in the Report Wrapper module. The export button is aware of the active modes: translation, compare or both, and generates the report accordingly.

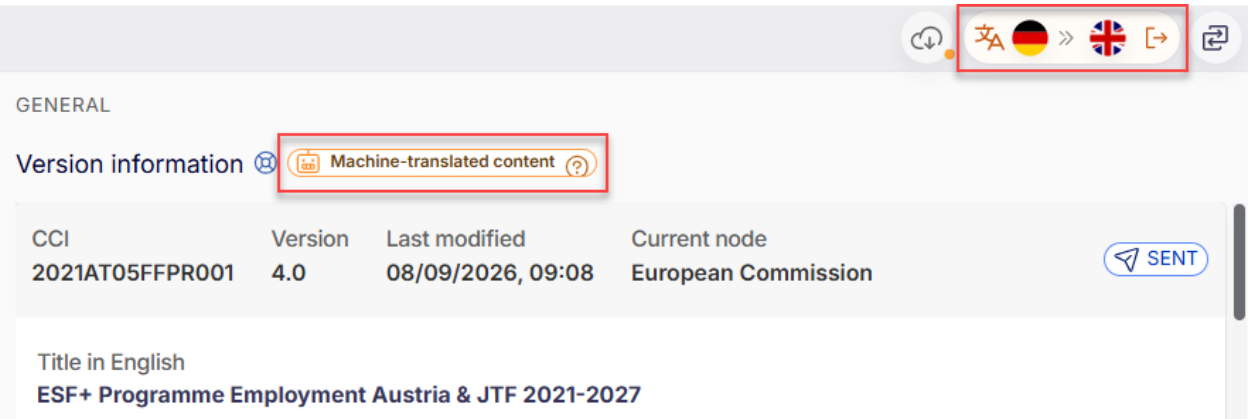

02

E-TRANSLATION FEATURE

This is mainly an internal refactor to decouple the translation mode from the compare mode and the generation of reports. Now the exit from translation mode is independent from the exit from compare mode.

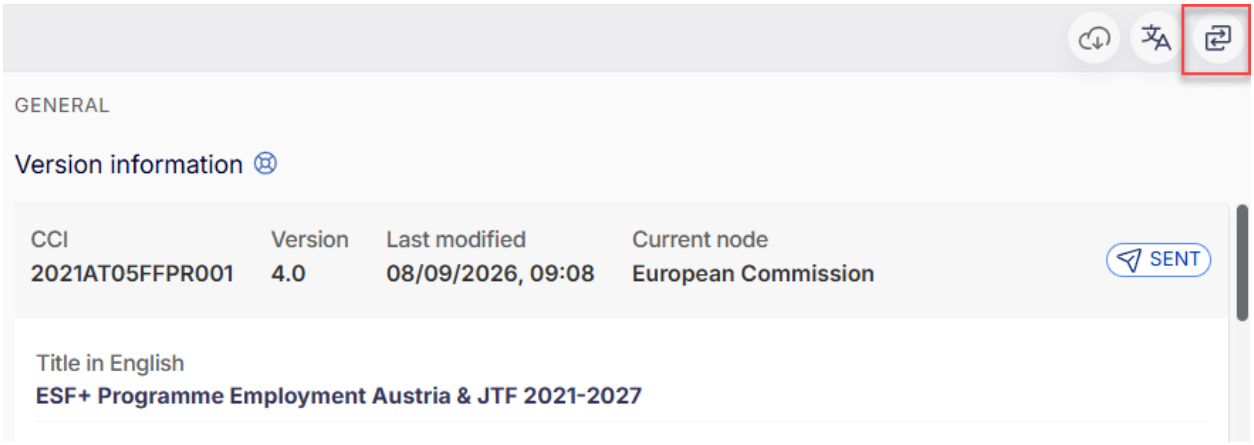

The content in the original language is automatically generated by machine translation and provided for reference only. The machine only translates to English, and no warranty is made as to its accuracy. The version in the original language prevails in case of discrepancies.

COMPARE FEATURE

Icons have changed and are more visible now.

04

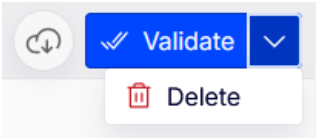

WORKFLOW ACTION TOOLBAR SECTION

This is a redesign of the way workflow actions available to the user are displayed in the toolbar. Previously, actions associated with main paths were displayed as buttons in the toolbar, while the three-dot menu on the right-hand side contained a separate link for each action associated with alternative paths (referred to as side actions). The new design minimizes the number of buttons in the toolbar and organizes them based on the number of actions available and their type (main or side actions).

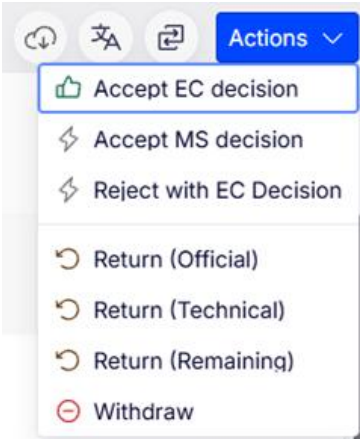

- One main action: A single button displaying the name of the action is shown.

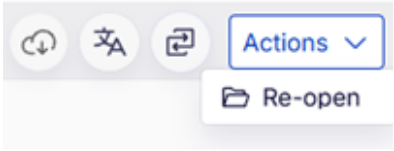

- One main action and one or more side actions: A single button displaying the name of the main action is shown, with an arrow to access the side actions.

- Multiple main actions, with or without side actions: A single 'Actions' button is shown, with an arrow providing access to all available (main/side) actions.

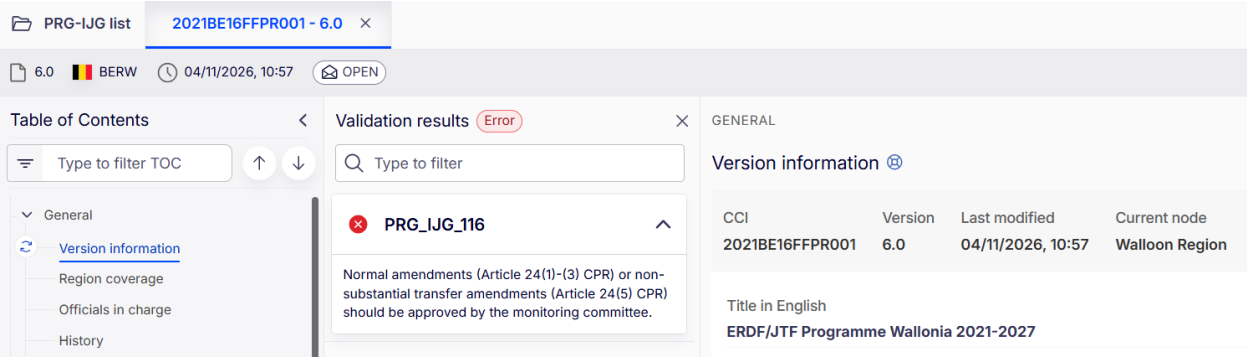

05

VALIDATION RESULTS PANELS

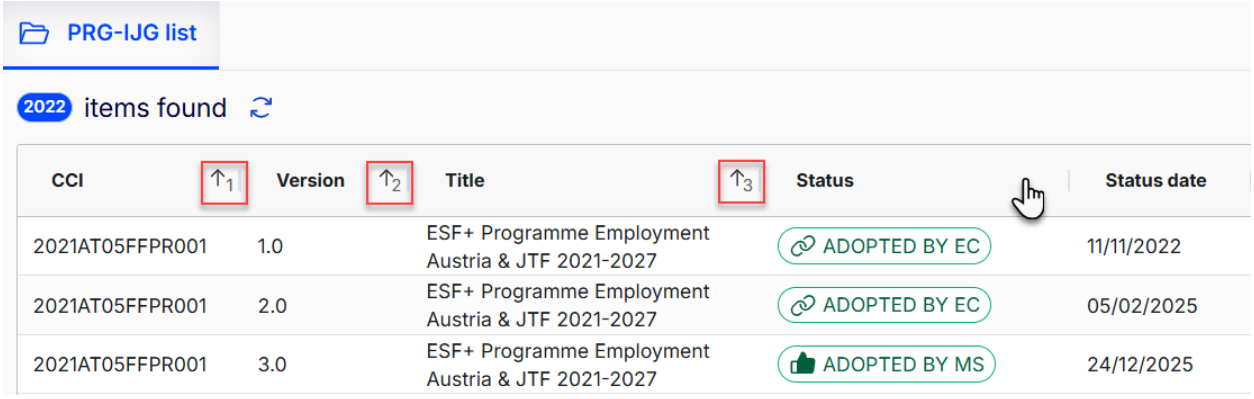

This is a redesign of the validation results panel, which is now displayed next to the TOC and can remain open while navigating through the TOC or edits different sections.

06

MULTI-COLUMN SORTING

This is a new multi-column sorting feature in modules' main table, to allow users to sort by multiple columns hierarchically. To use it, just hold on Shift key while clicking on the column headers.

07

PRINT

This is a new Print feature that allows users to print the current page through the browser's native print dialog.
